

Dirt Man

Self Portrait

Oil On Canvas, 2021

Terry French

The Dirt Man, is the center piece to the first BOP Art series currently under development. This art is design to allow the observer to observe. Who is the dirt man? An artistic expression of a humanity living in sand castles on beaches and drink dirty-muddy drinks in a world where the wave of the ocean inevitability take and give. Are we all made of dirt? Can you see the dirt on you or just others? Is the beach beautiful? This BOP Art is meant intrigue the observer to be an empty cup and observe without judgment or learned knowledge.

BOP Art Application: When the observer will experience the "Dirt Man" concept in several different forms and presentation when the interaction of tapping into the NFC function with a smartphone is performed with this artwork.

Bio

Art is my first language. For more than a decade I lost my voice. FrFr, I am thankful for it all; God, childhood, father, husband, US Army combat service, business professional, artist, ups, downs etc. All of which has come to pass in one form to another, lol. Oneself is all that remain beyond the fig leaf. Life and balance are the same. As I speak again. I pray that my voice is found in good nature and that my voice is allowed resonate love, prosperity and community into eternity. Am I the artist? Am I the medium? I like to believe that I have composed much in life, not all.

BOP Art is a new approach to art that allows multidisciplinary artist and multiple artist to originate, create and distribute. BOP Artist are multidisciplinary artist who applies a knowledge of technology and art to originate, create and distribute. This new approach has coined the phrase "This art is boppin." BOP Art takes us beyond the first dimension of body, cloth, stone, metal and oil used since the earliest forms of Art. The voice of the BOPArtists is amplified with the combination of business practices, social technologies (tecnolog-ias sociales) and art (arte). What will BOP Art do for the artist? What social experiences will the BOP Artists create for the observer (ox-observer experience)? What social interactions will the BOP Artists create for the observer (oi-observer interaction)? What social process will BOP Artists create for the observer (op-observer process)? How will BOP Art affect the art world? Are we on the cuff of the Information Age's emergence of BOP Art as a natural childbed of renaissance in the World Art? Will BOP Art name San Antonio, Texas as its very own place of birth?

WXYZR Inc social technology company a social technology company that develops hardware and software solutions for everyday interactions and process in society. A cornerstone social technology is near field communication (NFC). BOP Art applies creative ways to embed NFC technology into the artwork. This technology is the primary bridge used to initiate the primary social interactions between the observer and the art i.e. exchange of information such as public information, graphics, music, video, interactive reality experience, and initiate applications.

T.A.P i.N

Technical Access Point Information Network

Utilizing scientific design language and advertising principles pioneered by artist such as Paula Scher, the TAP-iN delivers a new consumer facing accessible language. This design guides the user to tap the NFC reader of their mobile device to the center. This design can also be recognized by consumer of low vision disabilities.

This NFC technology is embedded into the canvas of BOP Art.*
