

NEVER

Never watch clouds on a lazy afternoon,

Or children using their imaginations at play,

Or a close horse race.

Never catch a snowflake on your tongue,

Or a lightning bug as the sun sets,

Or a sunrise over a mountain lake.

Never eat cold watermelon on a hot day,

Or a hotdog while watching a baseball game,

Or ice cream on the Fourth of July.

Never imagine walking in someone else's shoes,

Or building a bridge to those you love,

Or your dreams coming true,

Never, ever be afraid to live
