calendar. Thanks so much. I just know once I get some live information and experience by watching a filmmaker in the day of the life I'll be able to stop doubting myself and feel like I know enough of what to expect to get going.

Aww yeah for sure! I'm happy I could help! I'll let you know ahead of time it will probably be an early call time, like 7am, but you're good to go whenever you have to go get your kiddos. If you're ok with it I might have you help out some of the crew with stuff around the set. But yeah! I'll keep you posted on which of those dates we wind up going with

DEC 21 AT 10:03 AM

That's perfect actually that'll be right when the kids get back in school so I won't have to worry about a sitter and when I have to leave to pick them up I'll just take off and you keep doing what you're doing. But, yes! Let me know when a date time and location is set and I'll put it in my calendar. Thanks so much. I just know once I get some live information and
