- Having a passion to bring the best of out my students and fellow musicians. Adaptability is key for me, being ready for various situations and any given time.
- Having a plan and executing to perfection. Taking each task as a vital step into achieving my goal.
- Galvanizing my students to be resilient through change and embrace the challenges to sustain their skills at guitar and music.

COMMUNICATION

- Building strong relationships with my guitar students and having a strong line of communication. I'm always remaining open to receiving and giving feedback on my teaching and curriculum.
- Communicating everlasting changes within our class and performance and of our apps, customer facing apps, and updates. Providing feedback and piloting new things for the company to roll out.

LEADERSHIP

- Having passionate conversations on what needs to be considered for change. Coaching upwards and providing feedback to contemporaries, leadership both at the music and professional level.
- Leveraging my expertise in guitar to pass on to my students and fellow musicians through collaboration in the studio and performances.

Music Experience :

Rogers Middle School (2004 – 2008) I played double bass in the orchestra. And then also played bass guitar in the orchestra. These were my first live performances as a musician.

Parous (2008 – 2013) This was the name of my first band. I played electric guitar for my first band. We had multiple songs on 99.5 Kiss FM. We completed over 100 shows and participated in battle of the band's competition. During this time I was also awarded best guitarist in San Antonio by Almo Music Center in their Guitar wars Competition.

Signal Fist (2013 – 2015) I played and sang in Signal Fist (A Band) for two years. We released one album titled polarity and played multiple shows.

2015 – Current – I have released 3 solo albums. Realm of Sound, Lies and Promises, and my latest release 'Am I Worthy?'. My latest music video is here : "Am I Worthy?" - Official Music Video \(youtube.com\)
