

Photography

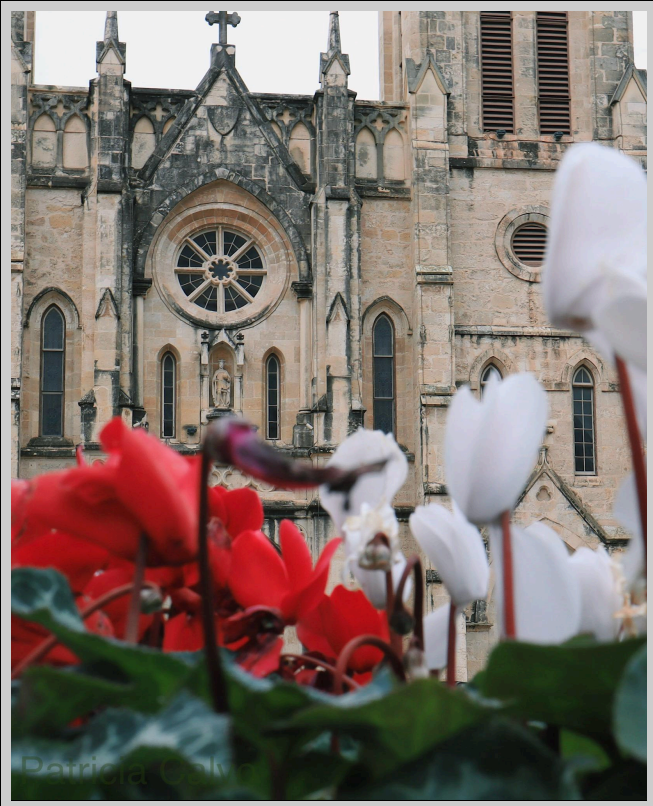

By

Patricia Calvo L.

Hello. My name is Patricia Calvo, I am a Mexican artist and photographer currently living in Texas.

I have a special appreciation for urban photography, I enjoy taking minimal style photography of architecture and also candid moments of people and animals

I believe that photography captures moments that last a lifetime and my goal is to combine my creative and visuals skills with marketing and business ideas that will allow me to be part of amazing projects and work among different industries around the world.

